

PRESS RELEASE: For immediate release

Roswell Arts Fund Announces 6th Annual ArtAround Roswell Sculpture Exhibit and Ribbon Cutting on Wednesday, May 26, 2021

[Roswell, GA, May 18, 2021]

ArtAround Roswell

Roswell Arts Fund is delighted to introduce the new temporary sculptures featured in the sixth season of the ArtAround Roswell Sculpture Tour.

A partnership initiative with the City of Roswell, ArtAround Roswell is an outdoor public art sculpture collection hosted throughout the city's acclaimed park system, historic district and at private businesses. This free "museum without walls" includes large scale, monumental sculptures from the city's permanent collection and temporary pieces loaned by the artists for a period of 1 to 2 years depending on the rotation cycle. All of the temporary pieces are available for purchase and potential collectors may contact info@roswellartsfund.org for more information.

The 2021-2022 call, which was released in December of 2020, received attention nationwide.

"It's thrilling to see how in just 6 short years ArtAround has become a beloved tradition in Roswell, widely respected within the artistic community around the world and has helped put our city on the map as a destination for the arts! This year we received over 80 entries from artists across the US – including GA, NC, AK, TX, NY, LA – and from as far away as India and England. After such a challenging year, it's been great to see so many cities around us invest in public art as an important tool in the recovery process. Our hope is for Roswell to continue being a leader in this effort."

– Ghila Sanders, Executive Director

Led by RAF's Public Art Manager Elan Buchen, the sculptures were selected by a public art panel based on criteria including quality, diversity and how the sculpture would spark conversation, delight visitors and activate public spaces. Additionally, as we move away from a year that was focused on isolation and distance the artists and panel members were asked to select pieces that spoke to the theme of CONNECTION for the 2021-2022 temporary collection. Each sculptor has delivered a unique vision of how that theme can be explored including intertwining materials, incorporating a change in perspective and scale, connection to community and the simple act of encouraging visitors to sharing their experience with others.

Roswell Arts Fund is grateful for the local businesses and individuals who generously invest in Roswell's creative economy and thriving community. Sponsors for the 2021-2022 ArtAround Roswell season include: Jim and Buff Van Epps, Variant Brewing Company and Synovus.
